ATR VERDICT: Golden Ambition justified favouritism in good style when recording a double at Lingfield on his latest outing and he should give a good account off a 6lb higher rating. However, CIRCUIT BREAKER gets the nod. The son of Nathaniel was impressive when victorious on his first start over hurdles at Kempton before being beaten into third in a warmer event next time. Judged on each of those efforts, he could be capable of defying an opening mark of 118. Just Lucky Sivola completes the shortlist.

ATR VERDICT: HOLLOWAY QUEEN seemed to be value for more than the winning margin when hanging left late in the piece at Lingfield on her hurdles bow. The daughter of Jukebox Jury is likely to have plenty more improvement forthcoming, and she is narrowly preferred to Kelya Wood, who could not have won any easier at Uttoxeter last month. A winner of three of her last five starts in this sphere, Fromheretoeternity cannot be ruled out either.

Top Tip: HOLLOWAY QUEEN (2)

ATR VERDICT: SCARFACE had Galop De Chasse (third) a length behind when filling the runner-up spot in this grade at Newbury last month, and he should be able to confirm his authority over that rival as they compete on the same terms. Joe Tizzard's seven-year-old is a previous course winner and it would be no surprise to see him go one better. Prince Quali finished third at Newbury last time and may go well, while Kotmask isn't out of it either.

Top Tip: SCARFACE (5)

ATR VERDICT: INTIMATE made a promising start to his chasing career when finishing runner-up behind a useful type on his seasonal reappearance at Sandown recently and, nudged up 1lb, he gets the vote to land the spoils with that run under his belt. The largely consistent Netywell finished just over eight lengths behind a subsequent winner when third over this track and trip last month, and he must enter calculations eased 1lb. Sunnyvilla is also respected.

ATR VERDICT: JAMES DU BERLAIS has competed in hot handicaps on each of his last five starts, including when second in the Topham in April. If he can bring that level of form to the table, then the eight-year-old ought to go close. Iroko was not disgraced in the Turners at the Cheltenham Festival in March and merits respect after filling second at Haydock on his seasonal return last time. Fil Dor can beat Jungle Boogie home for third.

ATR VERDICT: East Street has notched up three wins from four starts for this stable and he is of interest back at the scene of his latest victory, however a career-high mark does pose a question of James Owen's eight-year-old. With that in mind, a chance is taken on FRENCHY DU LARGE. Venetia Williams' charge was the subject of market support when only finding one rival too good on his return from an absence at Ludlow earlier this month. That effort should have teed him up nicely for a tilt at this and, off 3lb higher, he looks the one to be with. Jacks Parrot and Famous Bridge are a couple of others to consider.

ATR VERDICT: STRONG LEADER followed up his Grade 1 Liverpool Hurdle success with a cosy win in the Long Distance Hurdle at Newbury last month and could again be hard to beat. However, The Wallpark is progressive and looks a serious player as he bids to round out a five-timer. Last year's winner Crambo is unbeaten at this venue and cannot be ruled out, while the Haydock scorer Shoot First is still developing as a stayer and is another to note.

Top Tip: STRONG LEADER (7)

Watch out for: THE WALLPARK (8)
