ATR VERDICT: CLOUDY WEDNESDAY defied market expectation to fill the runner-up spot on his seasonal return last month and, if coming on for that run, the nine-year-old ought to go very close in his bid to go one better. Superstylin blotted his copybook when unseating his rider at Lingfield in December but he'd been largely consistent prior to that and could bounce back, while Pleasure Garden is another to consider.

ATR VERDICT: Jax Junior impressed at Doncaster in December before defying a penalty in fine style at Ascot the following month, and Lucy Wadham's gelding merits the utmost respect. However, it may be best to side with CALIFET EN VOL, who bolted up at Kempton in November before finding only subsequent Challow Hurdle winner The New Lion too strong at Newbury next time. That piece of form looks extremely strong now, and he receives a confident vote. Junker D'allier can chase the pair home.

ATR VERDICT: WEE CHARLIE is of obvious interest here off his lower chase mark. The Court Cave gelding has been in fine form over timber since joining Ger O'Leary last summer, winning his first two before a couple of solid runner-up efforts. He has been runner-up over fences previously and looks capable of exploiting this rating. In The Trenches has been running in some very strong beginners chases and could get a lot closer now in handicap company off what looks a competitive mark. Mahlers Cove ran a solid race back over fences last time and has place prospects again.

ATR VERDICT: La Renommee looked to enjoy the drop in distance when landing a Listed chase over an extended 2m4f at Doncaster 39 days ago and the seven-year-old should give another good account. BRIDES HILL (third) was overturned at cramped odds on that occasion, but improvement could be forthcoming given that was her first outing since May last year and Gavin Cromwell's mare is fancied to exact her revenge. The progressive Telepathique also warrants respect at the foot of the weights.

ATR VERDICT: RUNCOK may be able to do a bit better now over jumps. The Cokoriko gelding has shown a decent level of ability in bumpers and makes his hurdling debut here. He wasn't beaten far when fifth to De Temps En Temps at Fairyhouse last month and has a nice jumping pedigree, being out of a half-sister to Sceau Royal. Hello Jack has ben third on both his outings and is an obvious contender. He looked to bump into a very smart horse in Kiss Will at Fairyhouse last time. Milo Miller is another with solid placed form who has to be considered.

ATR VERDICT: Brave Jen dug deep to regain the winning thread at Fakenham in December, but a 4lb higher mark may prevent her from following up. With that in mind, this looks a suitable opportunity for fellow last-time-out winner CHICAGO STORM. He ran out a ready scorer of a 17-runner affair at Wincanton last month and an 8lb rise in the ratings might not be enough to anchor him. Handicap debutant Sun Art is also of interest.

ATR VERDICT: The hat-trick seeking ROCKOLA would likely have finished second but for the leader unseating at the final hurdle here 35 days ago. However, the daughter of Jukebox Jury looks just the type to relish this 3m1f distance and she may unlock enough improvement to defy a 3lb rise. The biggest threat is Tuscan Rose, who has filled the runner-up spot on her last two outings, while Miss Goldfire could also go well.

ATR VERDICT: Josh Williamson takes a useful 7lb off JACOB'S LADDER and he is fancied to follow up on his Navan maiden hurdle win. The Mount Nelson gelding showed a nice attitude then to get the better of a decent sort in Forty Coats and doesn't look badly treated now on what is essentially his handicap debut. Stablemate Find A Fortune surprised connections a bit when winning on his return at Fairyhouse three weeks ago. He could improve from that run and is a big player again. Blue Mosque chased home another Elliott horse, Disco Dancer, at Down Royal last time and that form looks solid, with the winner finishing fourth in a competitive event at Leopardstown on Sunday.

ATR VERDICT: It is hard to gauge just how much FORTUNE DE MER had in hand when he won a Listed bumper at Cheltenham's November meeting. However, it was more than enough to suggest he is capable of a big run under a penalty here. Corra Bheinn, whose yard won this last year, and Soldier Saint, who represents the powerful Nicky Henderson yard, are other notable contenders.

ATR VERDICT: A mistake at the last looked to cost ONE AND ONLY at Cork on his last outing and he can gain compensation. The Califet gelding had won at the same track five days previously and looked to be getting on top going to the final flight on his follow-up bid, only to paddle through the hurdle. He only lost out by half a length in the end and can strike again now off 3lb higher. Mighty Soldier might appreciate stepping up in trip after finishing a staying-on third at Punchestown last time and could be the main danger. Blue In The West improved when second at Tramore last time and is another who comes into calculations.

ATR VERDICT: Point-to-point winner DRACO MALFOY has shown ability on both previous starts in bumpers and rates a key player in what appears to be the weaker of the two divisions. Nathan's Run is feared most after creating a favourable impression when second in a similar event at Uttoxeter on debut in November. Quaviste and Keepmeoutofthis are notable debutants to keep an eye on.

ATR VERDICT: CARLTON lost his unbeaten record for the James Owen yard when hitting the crossbar in this grade over C&D last month, but that was still a good effort. The five-year-old is only 3lb higher and even a repeat of that display might be good enough to continue his rise through the ranks. Alright Sunshine was behind the selection at Chelmsford prior to finishing fourth in a stronger event at Lingfield last time and could have a say. Night Bear is another to consider.

ATR VERDICT: Bazball produced a better display in first-time cheekpieces when a respectable fourth at Newcastle on her most recent start and could go well off a 1lb lower rating. However, the vote goes to STARSONG, who attempted to make every yard of the running before fading into fourth at Wolverhampton last month. The six-year-old is a previous C&D winner and can capitalise on her appealing mark. The Real McKay is next best.

ATR VERDICT: Quickly showed ability when reaching the frame on his debut over track and trip in December and he should mount a bold bid. However, TRANSPARENT gets the nod as he took a step forward from his debut second to justify short odds in good style at Kempton last month and could have plenty more to offer. Bouboule was fourth over C&D last time and he isn't ruled out either.

ATR VERDICT: NORTHERN CRACKSMAN took advantage of a sliding mark when scoring over this trip at Newcastle last month and, upped 5lb, a repeat of that effort should put him bang there for his in-form stable. Runner-up over an extended 1m1f at Wolverhampton most recently, I Can't Believe is of renewed interest stepping back in trip off the same mark. Retraction is becoming attractively handicapped and he can also make his presence felt.

ATR VERDICT: FRANKIES DREAM has only finished out of the first two once in six attempts since being fitted with a hood (retained). He looks the most solid proposition having readily showed his rivals a clean pair of heels over 6f at Newcastle on Saturday. He can make light of a 6lb penalty at the chief expense of Sunny Time, who was turned over at short odds at Chelmsford last month but he could bounce back off the same mark. Until Dawn is also respected.

ATR VERDICT: DASH GORDON finished third over this trip at Lingfield last time out but was in winning form over this C&D prior to that and a prominent showing looks likely. If allowed his own way out in front, Stroxx could prove difficult to peg back having performed well off this mark when third in a similar event at Newcastle recently. Starshot is also noteworthy.

ATR VERDICT: The recent Kempton scorer Stella Hogan appeals on overall form. However, her limitations were exposed when she failed to justify odds-on favouritism off this mark over 1m at the same venue most recently. Having never previously raced at Southwell, she could be worth taking on. EMBARKED, a C&D winner off 8lb higher, may represent a bit of value after hinting at a revival when cheekpieces were added here last week. Autumn Angel is also noted.

ATR VERDICT: Recent form points towards another bold showing from PORTORO, who wasn't beaten far over C&D a fortnight ago and can make amends for that narrow defeat in a race that lacks strength in depth. Fistral Beach is closely matched with the selection based on their encounter over track and trip last month and is feared. Stoic Syd and Vixey are others to note.
